I. INTRODUCTION

At its forty-second (1987) session, the General Assembly, in the disposition of the item entitled "Implementation of the Declaration on the Granting of Independence to Colonial Countries and Peoples", allocated to the Fourth Committee for its consideration specific aspects of the question and considered, in plenary meetings, the general aspects

In so doing, the General Assembly referred to the Fourth Committee all the chapters of the report of the Special Committee on the Situation with regard to the Implementation of the Declaration on the Granting of Independence to Colonial Countries and Peoples relating to specific

The Fourth Committee held a total of 24 meetings, heard 121 statements in the general debates and also heard 31 petitioners. Following its consideration of all the items referred to it by the General Assembly, the Fourth Committee submitted to the Assembly eight Falkland Islands (Malvinas), and six containing its recommendations on specific Territories and other related items. Seventeen of the 21 sets of recommendations contained in those reports were prepared by the Special Committee, in keeping with paragraph 31 of General Assembly decision 34/401; 14 recommendations were adopted by the Fourth Committee by consensus.

2 Activities of foreign economic and other interests which are impeding the implementation of the Declaration on the Granting of Independence to Colonial Countries and Peoples in Namibia

Speakers noted that the relevant decisions of the United Nations were being disregarded and urged the adoption by all concerned of more decisive measures to put an end to foreign investments detrimental to the peoples of colonial Territories, particularly in Namibia. While several delegations welcomed the efforts made by a number of industrialized countries to bring about divestment of foreign economic interests from South Africa, they urged them to support the call for comprehensive sanctions. They also

In its decision on military activities and arrangements by colonial Powers in Territories under their administration, the General Assembly reiterated its condemnation of such activities that were detrimental to the rights and interests of the peoples concerned and condemned the fact that the colonial Powers concerned had taken no steps to implement the repeated requests of the Assembly to withdraw
