

As the threat of a unilateral declaration of independence by the white minority government in Southern Rhodesia became increasingly imminent the Security Council adopted on 6 May 1965 its first resolution on Southern Phodesia 00/ requesting the United Finadom and all other Member States of

Following the decision of the United States Congress in 1971 to authorize the importation of chrome into the United States, the General Assembly in November 1971 called upon the United States Covernment to take the necessary measures in compliance with the relevant Security Council decisions and "bearing in mind its obligations under article 25 of the Charter" to prevent the importation of chrome into the United concerned" by the report that the United States had authorized the importation of chrome ore and other minerals from Southern Rhodesia and urged the United States "to cooperate fully with the United Nations in the effective implementation of sanctions". 122/ In an effort to ensure the strict implementation of sanctions the Security Council in May 1973 called upon States to enact and enforce immediately legislation providing
