

Changes in the age structure of human populations are taking place across the globe,

continues

