Case No. 2012-335

O'Hanlon

(Appellant)

v.

Secretary-General of the United Nations

(Respondent)

A large, solid black rectangular box covers the lower half of the page, indicating that the content has been redacted.

5. Pursuant to Article 31(1) of the Rules and Section II.A.3 of Practice Direction No. 1 of the Appeals Tribunal, the Appeals Tribunal may allow a motion requesting leave to file additional pleadings after the filing of the answer if there are exceptional circumstances justifying the motion.

6. Having considered Mr. O'Hanlon's Motion in conjunction with the Respondent's answer, I have decided not to accept Mr. O'Hanlon's request. It appears to me that Mr. O'Hanlon wanted to have an opportunity to voice his disagreement with the Respondent's views on the known facts and applicable law in this case. The matters that Mr. O'Hanlon seeks to address in his Motion do not demonstrate any exceptional circumstances justifying the need to file additional pleadings.

7. For the foregoing reason, Mr. O'Hanlon's Motion is denied
