

Case No. 2022-1681

Claude Cahn

(Respondent/Applicant)

v.

response to a friend-of-the-court brief. The Appeals Tribunal strives to dispose of its caseload in the most efficient way possible. In this case, granting the application to file a friend-of-the-court brief would defeat this goal by forcing the postponement of the hearing of the appeal to the next session to enable the parties to file submissions in response to the brief. The Appeals Tribunal considers that this outcome would be less desirable than the absence of additional submissions on the legal issues in the case.
