

Introduction

1. The Applicant, a Human Resources Policy Officer with the International Civil Service Commission, filed an application contesting the decision of the Office for

6. On 12 October 2018, the Respondent duly filed his reply.
7. On 16 October 2018, the Applicant filed a sur-reply to the Respondent's reply.
8. By Order No. 225 (NY/2018) dated 7 November 2018, Judge Greceanu ordered the parties to (a) inform the Tribunal by 30 November 2018 if additional evidence would be requested to be produced or if the case could be decided on the papers before it and, (b) in case no further evidence was requested, to file their closing submissions both on receivability and on the merits by 21 December 2018.
9. On 18 and 21 December 2018, the Applicant and the Respondent, respectively, filed their closing statements.
10. On 22 December 2018, the General Assembly decided not to extend the ad litem judge position in New York, which expired on 31 December 2018 (see General Assembly resolution 73/276 [Administration of Justice at the United Nations]).
11. On 11 January 2019, the case was reassigned to the undersigned Judge.

Consideration

Receivability

- 12.

18.

Conclusion

27. The application is rejected as not receivable.

(Signed)

~~Judge~~ Alexander W. Hunter, Jr.

Dated this 26th day of March 2019

Entered in the Register ~~es-ES~~ 26th day of March 2019

(Signed)

NereOoySe-ES