GENERAL INTRODUCTION

The present volume constitutes the fourth supplement covering the proceedings of the Security Council from 1946 to 1950.

The proceedings of the later meetings will be covered in subsequent supplements.

In order to make it easier to find the Council's actions during the entire period covered by the five volumes, the headings under which the resolutions and procedures of the volume have been generally maintained unchanged in this supplement. New headings have been inserted where required. Topics which the Council has not discussed anew during this time are identified by double asterisks.

The methods employed and the principles observed in the preparation of this supplement have been the same as for the original volume of the Repertoire. They are explained in the General Introduction to that volume. The Repertoire is an expository work which the proceedings of the Council.

As was observed in the original volume, the comprehensive and authoritative account of its procedures or practices which have not been clearly

Security Council is at an end, and the reader, by using the descriptive titles or the headings for himself concerning the practice of the Council.

Details of the decisions of the Council have been included where appropriate in the accounts of its proceedings which make up this volume. The term "decision" has again been used to mean not only those "decisions" to which specific reference is made in the text of Articles of the Charter, but all significant steps decided upon by the Council, whether by vote or otherwise, in the course of consideration of a question.

The reader should refer for full explanations of the explanations in this Supplement.
