

Amnesty International

www.amnesty.org

Renzo Pomi

Amnesty International Representative at the United Nations

Renzo.pomi@amnesty.org

Chapeau

Any pact of the future must include a firm renewed commitment from all UN member states to effectively respect, protect and fulfill all human rights recognized in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and other international human rights instruments and standards.

This renewed commitment to human rights must include:

- Recognizing the role of UN Human Rights Council (HRC) and its mandate to promote and protect human rights without discrimination and ensure the human rights of those in need of protection.

4 h o G - e B T QI+ people. States must promote freedom from discrimination, prioritizing the needs of those facing multiple and intersecting oppressions, realize sexual and reproductive rights for all, and end gender-based violence.

Recognizing older people as full stakeholders in discussions, commitments and recommendations colonialism. States must take ambitious and far-reaching steps to effectively address structural inequalities and discrimination against racialized people, Indigenous Peoples and communities discriminated based on Work and Descent and to prioritize promotion of dignity and agency of these groups.

. X

Chapter I. Sustainable development and financing for development

xx

The prolonged consequences of the Covid-19 pandemic, the growing number of wars and armed conflicts around the world, the increasing economic and social inequalities,

- Ensure child and young HRDs are actively protected from any harm in the context of public assemblies, without unnecessary restriction of their rights.
- End criminal proceedings against child and young HRDs charged for their participation in peaceful assemblies or for the exercise of their right to freedom of expression and freedom to assembly and association.
- Ensure that child and young HRDs and their child and youth-led organizations and networks can work in a safe and empowering environment and are allowed to comprehensively report on human rights violations. They should be able to access necessary support and resources, including funding for their activities.
- Ensure a consistent national approach in protecting, respecting, and fulfilling children's interlinked rights contributing to their abilities to participate in peaceful assemblies in line with international human rights law.
- Ensure that law enforcement and other relevant officials are trained on children's rights and on the rights of child and young HRDs in peaceful assemblies.
- Provide effective and age-appropriate remedies to the child and young HRDs who were victims of unlawful use of force or harassment (o)-6.74(d) 2(4) 10(3) 2u)-0d()Tjv)-5(i)ac219 (i)riBDC c089 (i)riBDC

- Substantially increase budget allocations related to the human rights pillar of the UN in a clear and quantifiable manner in order to bring it on par with the financing of other UN pillars.
- Cooperate fully with UN human rights mechanisms, including treaty bodies, special procedures and other investigative mechanisms and faithfully implement the decisions and recommendations they issue.
- Adopt measurable steps to increase the space for the participation of civil society and peoples'