

The background of the poster is a collage of various images. At the top right, there is a photograph of a woman in a red dress. Below this, the title 'Sweet Dreams' is written in large, bold, white letters. Underneath the title, the words 'a documentary film' are written in a smaller, green font. The collage also includes a dark, almost black landscape, a lit candle, and a field of yellow flowers. The overall aesthetic is artistic and evocative.
